

Bourton on the Water Youth Club – February 2018

SUMMARY (from Gemma – Project Manager):

This month is a slightly shorter one with only three sessions because of half term. The young people began the month with a pancake session looking at Shrove Tuesday. The young people were encouraged to try new foods and discussions about healthy eating were had. The young people also chose to do some arts and crafts giving them the freedom to explore their creative side and express themselves through art.

The young people then had an evening of games, playing wet head and guess who. Sessions like these allow the young people to explore something out of their comfort zone and try something different. It also encourages healthy competition.

Finally, the young people had a Chinese New Year food tasting session. The young people were presented with a range of oriental foods to try and discussions about healthy eating and celebrations in other cultures were had. The young people also requested table games and arts and crafts. It is a fantastic resource to have these activities available for the young people to request at a session and to have the space to store the equipment. Thank you to the Parish Council for providing this.
